

The Practice and Effect of Water Conservation Legislation in China

Dingxiang, Liu*, Jianguo, Li

.....

ABSTRACT

After more 60 years' legislative practice of water resources protection, the Chinese government has initially established a legislative system of water resources protection, based on Water Law. From the development course of water resources protection legislation, the paper mainly analyzes the legal framework, main content & management system of water resources protection, and pointed out the improved direction of water resources conservation legislation in China in the future.

* D.J., Engineer, Development Research Center of Ministry of Water Resources, P.R.China.

 Engineer, Chinese Hydraulic Engineering Society, P.R.China.